WHO WE ARE

Weigh Anchor is a Service-Disabled Veteran-Owned Small Business providing construction professional services. We deliver project management, project controls, program management, and field operations for federal agencies, tribal nations, and private-sector clients across 17 states and territories.

CORE SERVICES

Project Management

Full lifecycle oversight from procurement through closeout. Single point of accountability for scope, schedule, and budget.

Project Controls

Cost tracking, schedule forecasting, and change order management across active projects.

Program Management

Standardized reporting, resource allocation, and risk management across multiple projects and locations.

Field Operations

Site inspections, quality assurance, and contractor oversight across every active work area.

REPRESENTATIVE EXPERIENCE

SECTOR	SCOPE
Federal — Multi-Site Construction	48 simultaneous construction projects in remote and rural communities. Full lifecycle PMO, project controls, and construction management.
Federal — Program Development	National technical assistance IDIQ. Procurement program standup, process design, Pacific territory operations.
Fortune 500 — Pharmaceutical	Non-structural seismic analysis, program development, and embedded automation staff across active manufacturing campus.
Private Sector	Construction PM support for small businesses. 50% cost avoidance achieved through proactive controls and contract management.

WHAT SETS US APART

- We go where others won't. Remote Alaska villages, Pacific islands, tribal communities with complex logistics across 17 states and territories.
- We build the tools, not just use them. In-house automation arm provides custom dashboards, automated reporting, and digital project controls on every engagement.
- Full vertical stack. Construction PM + business automation under one roof. No third-party tools, no handoffs between firms.
- Veteran-led. Founded by a U.S. Air Force Civil Engineering veteran. Structure, accountability, and mission-first execution.
